Color Compound Collection

The Color Compound collection celebrates the palettes embodied by the return of honest materials to interior spaces. The collection was inspired by the late architect Luis Barragan's emotional architecture, where color is an essential design element that affects the way a space feels. Like in Barragan's buildings, simple geometry, expressive color and raw surfaces are highlighted in the collection's styles Refraction, Intone, Fundamentals and Essentials.

The calming tones are drawn from nature and traditionally used in health and well-being interiors. While dissension and conflict may be unavoidable, the calming characteristic of this season's colors offers a moment of rest and reflection.

Collection: Color Compound
Designer: Suzanne Tick

Refraction is a large-scale, statement pattern emulating the movement of light and shadow. Calm neutrals that merge and diverge across the fabric soften multidirectional planes of color.

Refraction pays homage to the architectural works of Luis Barragan, utilizing both active and neutral colors to suggest interior and exterior spaces. Modern yet classic, Barragan's architectural work celebrates the earthy yet bold colors of natural materials. The palette is composed of cool and warm neutrals paired with brighter hues that evoke the raw beauty of terracotta, wood and stone.
